ATCO OPENS FIRST BLUE FLAME KITCHEN LEARNING CENTRE

Cooking, household advice, energy efficiency and safety included in programs

CALGARY, Alberta – ATCO celebrated the opening of its first Blue Flame Kitchen Learning Centre today, building on an 80-year history of providing Albertans “expert advice for everyday life™.”

“The ATCO Blue Flame Kitchen Learning Centre adds an important new dimension to a longstanding, trusted and valued Alberta service,” said Nancy Southern, President & Chief Executive Officer, ATCO Group. “I hope people will take advantage of the many learning opportunities being offered.”

The new 3,000 square foot ATCO Blue Flame Kitchen Learning Centre provides the public with hands-on learning from a team of experts.

Professional staff will offer a variety of cooking classes as well as educational programs that deal with food safety, preparation, household dilemmas, energy safety and sustainability around the home. Classes will be tailored to adults and families. School programs will also be offered.

“ATCO Blue Flame Kitchen, which now includes the Learning Centre, a toll-free Customer Advisor Service, and a redesigned website, is an important vehicle for providing ATCO Gas customers with the tools and information they need to maintain healthy and safe homes,” said Brian Hahn, President, ATCO Gas.
